

FEB CENTRAL MINISTRY TO WOMEN CONSULTATIONS

CONSULTATIONS

FEB Central Ministry to Women Consultations encourage a necessary paradigm shift to help change the culture of ministry to women in the church. This shift in thinking refocuses Women's Ministry programing at the church to a Ministry to Women mindset within the church.

This ministry model can be easily implemented to encourage a complementarian ministry focus with the pastor and a women's ministry leader. It considers the question; how does the church enable women to become fully devoted followers of Christ, rather than how can a women's ministry do this alone? This ministry mindset is uniquely designed to give greater attention to the spiritual maturity, discipleship and discernment of all women within the church and its community.

Ministry to Women consultations discuss ways to widen the scope beyond traditional women's ministry initiatives; addresses how a ministry to women model seen in Titus 2 is needed; discusses the concerns of personal and ministry autonomy; and offers practical steps to implement this model. It is a consultation facilitated by the FEB Central Women's Ministry director and best received with the engagement of a pastor(s) and/or a women's ministry leader(s).

Personal consultations can be held via phone or face-to-face (where available) to address the specific needs of individual churches. Group sessions can be arranged to reach a larger group setting (i.e. with pastors at FEB Central Associations, conferences).
